

NOTES ON THE CONTRIBUTORS

Maria Cynthia Rose Banzon Bautista is Professor of Sociology at the University of the Philippines (UP) in Diliman and Executive Director of the UP Center for Integrative Studies (UP-CIDS). An expert in rural sociology with a PhD from the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Bautista has coordinated several large-scale research programs, including the Joint Research Project on Agrarian Issues in Central Luzon of the UP College of Social Sciences and Philosophy and the University of Amsterdam.

Amado Jr M Mendoza is Assistant Professor at the Department of Political Science, UP Diliman, where he is currently finishing his PhD. He is also a fellow of the UP-CIDS European Studies Programme. A former Vice President of the Freedom from Debt Coalition, Prof. Mendoza counts among his publications an article titled "Impact on the Informal Sector" in Globalization at a Glance: The Philippines in the Emerging World Order, an anthology edited by Cayetano Paderanga Jr. and published by UP-CIDS in 1996.

Nathan Gilbert Quimpo is currently working for his PhD at the School of Oriental and African Studies at the University of London. He taught at the UP Diliman Department of Political Science from June 1998 to October 1999.

T Ruanni F Tupas is Assistant Professor at the Department of English and Comparative Literature, UP Diliman. He is currently working toward a PhD in English Language at the National University of Singapore. He is also a recipient of the Solidarity Award for language research in the Third World given by the International Association of Applied Linguistics.